Debbie,

On January 31, 2018, community members attended a Navy Community Open House at the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard about Tetra Tech EC, Inc.’s falsification of radiological data. The Navy reported that after finding significant signs of falsification through an extensive data evaluation effort, it concluded that all Tetra Tech EC, Inc., data is unreliable, and all locations need to be resampled. This announcement received significant press coverage. The development will be delayed significantly. Greenaction hosted a press conference immediately before the Open House. They also protested EPA’s award of an $85 million contract to Tetra Tech, Inc., the parent company, for radiological testing at Navajo Nation Abandoned Uranium Mines. These EPA managers and staff attended: Angeles Herrera, John Chesnutt, David Yogi, Lily Lee, Jackie Lane, Rusty Harris-Bishop, and Michele Huitric.
